Founder

Rev. Dr. R.A. Hampton

Rev. Dr. Hampton is a native of Monroe, Louisiana who is committed to serving others to improve their quality of life by exposing them to the love of Christ. He has been “street ministering” to the lost and hurting since 2000 and has become affectionately known as “Rev Ron” during his outreach events. His love of God has translated into helping others to help themselves.

He is gifted with knowledge and wisdom to reach the hurting and downtrodden everywhere God plants him. His desire to be a witness for Christ has guided his footsteps up and down the East Coast to fellowship with a diverse group of churches and public officials.

Dr. Hampton is a die-hard advocate for those that have been deemed as unfit by man, but he knows they are just right for God. He partners with ministries, churches, social services, charities, and community organizations to provide accessible food, clothing, health, employment, and other resources to underserved communities.

Luke 14:23 - And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come them to come in, that my house may be filled.

Mission Statement

“Takin It To The Streets, Inc.” is an evangelistic opportunity to partner with area churches, ministries and social service organizations of the city and minister to the needs of the indigent, socio-economically challenged, homeless, and crime ridden communities in our nation.

Statistics

- Approximately 75,000 community residents served and provided hot meals
- Thousands of community volunteers
- Approximately 25,000 salvations
- Approximately 15,000 reunited in Christian fellowship
- Hundreds of churches, ministries, and social service organizations as partners

Brief History

The pilot program was initiated in the Allendale community at the Evergreen Baptist Church located at 804 Allen Ave, October 31, 2009, and sponsored by the Shreveport-Bossier Rescue Mission from that point to an extended period until December 2010. “Takin It To The Streets, Inc.” is now an independent non-profit organization sponsored by a community coalition, however, the Shreveport-Bossier Rescue Mission continues to support our efforts. As a result of this project, we pray that area church membership increases and when the opportunity presents itself, members of these communities that are in need will utilize the resources that have been introduced to them.
